HSBC WARNS AGAINST PHISHING SMS

The Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation Limited would like to alert its customers about a phishing SMS purportedly from HSBC. The phishing message claimed that customers had successfully placed an order with payment amount indicated. It also suggested customers to call for enquiry. Below is the screen capture of the SMS (Chinese only):

HSBC reminds customers that it has no connection to the SMS or the phone number provide. Customers should not share any sensitive personal information or chat with anyone. Please refer to <https://www.hsbc.com.hk/help/cybersecurity-and-fraud/phishing/> for more phishing related tips.

To help you identify HSBC SMS instantly, we have joined the SMS Sender Registration Scheme. The bank's registered sender IDs include #HSBC, #HSBCsecure, #PayMe and #HSBCnotice for one-way SMS to local mobile users. Please note that 'HSBC' is no longer used as the sender ID. However, customers should remain vigilant, as there have been instances of fraudulent SMS messages using this prefix to impersonate other organisations.

Customers are reminded to ensure they are connected to a valid HSBC site. The Bank's Hong Kong domain is <https://www.hsbc.com.hk>. Customers should access banking services by typing this address into the browser search bar.

If customers are concerned, they should call the HSBC Personal Customer service hotline at 2233 3000 and report to the Police. "Scameter", the government's scam and pitfall search engine, is also available to help identify potential frauds.
